FAWO Innovation: Flatscreen Pull-Out System for all Situation“

FAWO, the leading European system vendor of technical equipment (electronic installations, lighting technology, locking systems and door hardware) for caravans and mobile homes, has yet another innovation to offer. Their flatscreen pullout system MEDIO can boast with a new generation: MEDIO-A is the name of the new expansion to the standard program – developed in close collaboration with partner company and manufacturer Kesseböhmer.

MEDIO-A stands for the well thought through, carefully implemented and comfortable solution for the invisible installation of a flatscreen television monitor in a storage compartment. Its brother, the MEDIO-T moves upward in a telescopic fashion, the hidden object of desire of the latest solution slowly and elegantly slides downward and out. Triggered by a light press of the hand, the flatscreen monitor is unlocked and extended and automatically stopped by silicon brakes.

The entire system is extremely functional and mobile. Absolute Novelty: not only can the flatscreen be slanted upwards and sideways, it is fully rotatable!,so that the observer may watch programs from any situation he may currently be in. Whether seated at the dining table at the front of the mobile home or reclined in the sleeping area at the opposite side of the vehicle.

MEDIO-A is a strong product with simple usability and top-class quality in terms of materials as well as manufacture. Its stable form made of galvanized resp. powder-coated steel in anthracite metallic provides absolute stability and keeps the screen at the desired position. As the adapter plate is identical for all MEDIO systems, the flatscreen can simply be removed from the storage compartment and hung onto a FAWO wall holder.
